Earth's Evolutionary Stages

Seven Earth Epochs

Human beings had a soft, pliant, jellyfish-like body.

Man developed an airlike body consisting of an astral body working into the ether body.

Great transformation: Man became a warm blooded, upright being. Start of I-consciousness and physical reincarnation. The start of good and evil due to the 'Fall' – the Luciferic infection.

Advanced culture in the land of Atlantis. Man had still pliable bodies, not solid mineral like our current, hence no physical bodily remains such as bones are to be found. Ends with Atlantean deluge ('the Flood').

Lowest point of Man's physical descent and a turning point in Man's consciousness: from an atavistic clairvoyance to a free human being.

Man will develop the faculty of memory (and full remembrance on previous lives). Man will hear the sound of the spheres.

The great separation. Good and evil will contrast very differently: the outer physiognomy will directly mirror one's karma. Men will show good and evil on their faces.
